A PRIVATE OFFERING, 30 SEPTEMBER 2026

For Camilla Benbow and David Lubinski

From Gordon Bellamy, SMPY Cohort 3

Thank you for a lifetime of research that takes lives like mine seriously, and for making time for me this summer. You asked me for media that represents my past, present and future. This one page introduces the full interactive record that comes with it.

PAST

Phillips Exeter Academy, 1985 to 1986. Harvard College, engineering.
MATHCOUNTS national championship, 1984. Research Science Institute, 1987.
Electronic Arts, from 1993.
Co-founded Gay Gaming Professionals, 2006.
Executive Director, International Game Developers Association, 2010 to 2012.

PRESENT

Professor of the Practice of Cinematic Arts and Director of Cinematic Ethics, USC School of Cinematic Arts.
GGP Scholars, applications close 2 October 2026.
A student AI buildathon, April 2026.

FUTURE

Intentions, not achievements: AI empowerment, belonging, meaningful connections, big ideas. And, if and when you want it, being useful to SMPY.

Open the interactive record for the timeline, the relief view, the sources behind every entry, and downloads. Nothing here asks anything of you. It holds no scores and makes no claim about the cohort. You are welcome to cite it however serves your work, and I welcome every question. You may set it aside at any time, without a word.

Version 1.0. Every entry in the record is marked Document, Record in my files, or My own account.
